CAPTAIN

THOMAS F. MANTELL, JR.

Born in Franklin, Ky., 30 June 1922. Graduated Male High School, Louisville. Joined Army Air Corps, 18 June 1942. Graduated Flight School, 30 June 1943. During WW II, Mantell assigned to 440th Troop Carrier Group, 95th Troop Carrier Squadron, 9th Air Force. Awarded Distinguished Flying Cross, and Air Medal w/3 OLCs for heroism. Following the war returned to Louisville. Joined newly organized Kentucky Air National Guard, assigned as Flight Leader, "C" Flight, 185th Fighter Squadron, Kentucky Air National Guard on 18 February 1947. 7 January 1948, while on training flight with three other P-51s (Mustang) Mantell was directed by flight tower at Godman Field to pursue an unidentified flying object. While in pursuit of object, died in plane crash near this site. The story of Mantell's death while chasing UFO made headlines across the country. Intense military investigation of incident became part of Project SIGN later BLUEBOOK, the military's investigations into UFOs. Much speculation and conjecture has been written about the incident. It is still uncertain what Mantell was pursuing at the time of the crash. Mantell is the first flight casualty of the Kentucky Air National Guard. Buried Zachary Taylor National Cemetery, Louisville, Ky.

Pilots Ordered to Shoot Down 'Saucers' in Range

WASHINGTON, July 28 --(INS) — The Air Force disclosed today that jet pilots are under orders to maintain a nationwide 24-hour "alert" against "flying saucers" and to shoot them down if possible.

The Air Force expressed the belief the unidentified flying objects are not a threat to the United States and stated also that they are not a secret U. S. military development.

It added, however, that jet pilots are under standing orders to pursue all unidentified flying objects, especially on the eastern seaboard, and, if necessary, force them to land. The alert is applicable to "flying saucers."

The Air Force admitted, however, that no jet pilot has yet gotten close enough to take a shot at a "flying saucer." One pilot estimated that he was within five miles of a mysterious light over Washington last weekend, but the light disappeared when he tried to draw close.

The Pentagon issued a statement

1960: Project Ozma

Is Anybody Out There?

Earthlings Listening In For Life In Deep Space

Is there life on other planets? Some astronomers think so, and for the first time they are turning the earth's ear to try to catch the sounds of faraway life. In this article, Alton Blakeslee, AP science writer, explains the quest of project Ozma.

BY ALTON BLAKESLEE

GREEN BANK, W. Va., April 6 (AP)—Earthlings now begin a search to hear signals from intelligent life somewhere else in our universe.

Many scientists are convinced somebody is out there, somewhere among billion times billions of stars, and probably billions of other planets.

Seeking contact, young astronomers here first are pointing the giant ear of a radio telescope at two fairly nearby stars which may have planets, and perhaps intelligent life.

Just conceivably, these planets may be beaming "Is anyone there?" signals at Earth, explains Dr. Frank D. Drake, 29-year-old associate astronomer of the National Radio Astronomy Observatory perched in this mountainous hamlet of only 108 souls.

Or perhaps new and sensitive equipment here can pick up commands they are sending to their own space probes, as we are sending signals out to our recent Venus probe.

Dr. Drake and associates are installing the special equipment in the 85-foot radio telescope pointing a shiny, cup-shaped ear out into space.

IF ALL goes well, they actually will begin listening for the first time on Earth for messages from far out there.

Success on this first venture is scarcely to be hoped for, astronomers concede.

Yet there is a faint chance man will suddenly receive the electrifying answer to one of his questions: "Is there intelligent life elsewhere than on Earth?"

Many hours every day for a month the radio telescope will hunt for coded signals along frequencies which life elsewhere might be beaming right now at us.

After a month, if no word comes, this first vigil will end and the radio telescope will resume doing other astronomical research.

But the quest will be resumed later, probably with more powerful receivers, "for there is no doubt in the minds of many or most of astronomers that some day success will be achieved—now or 100 years from now, but some day," Dr. Drake declares.

The handsome, grey-eyed astronomer with graying brown hair mainly conceived and is directing this search named project Ozma, after the queen of fictional Oz, "a place very far away, difficult to reach and populated by strange and exotic beings."

THE INITIAL targets are two stars, Tau Ceti and Epsilon Eridani, each barely visible to the naked eye, in our southern skies.

Each is about the size of our own sun or star, and each is about 11 light years away. A light year is the distance light travels in one year at its speed of 186,400 miles a second. That means each star is about 66 trillion miles away.

A radio signal would take 11 years to reach us, too, since radio waves travel at the speed of light.

"We could quickly beam on any planet ultimately back an acknowledgement, but it would take another 11 years—from now until 1971—for them to receive it and know we had replied. And until 1982 for us to get the message they had heard us."

A 22-year "hello-hello"—long enough to give pause even to a teenager on the telephone—would mean decades before much intelligent knowledge could be exchanged.

To be recognizable despite language difficulties, the first signal might only state the value of Pi, or the atomic weight of uranium, or some other mathematical or physical fact which intelligent life would have learned, Dr. Drake theorizes.

Despite all difficulties, the search has begun to seek word from life beyond this earth.

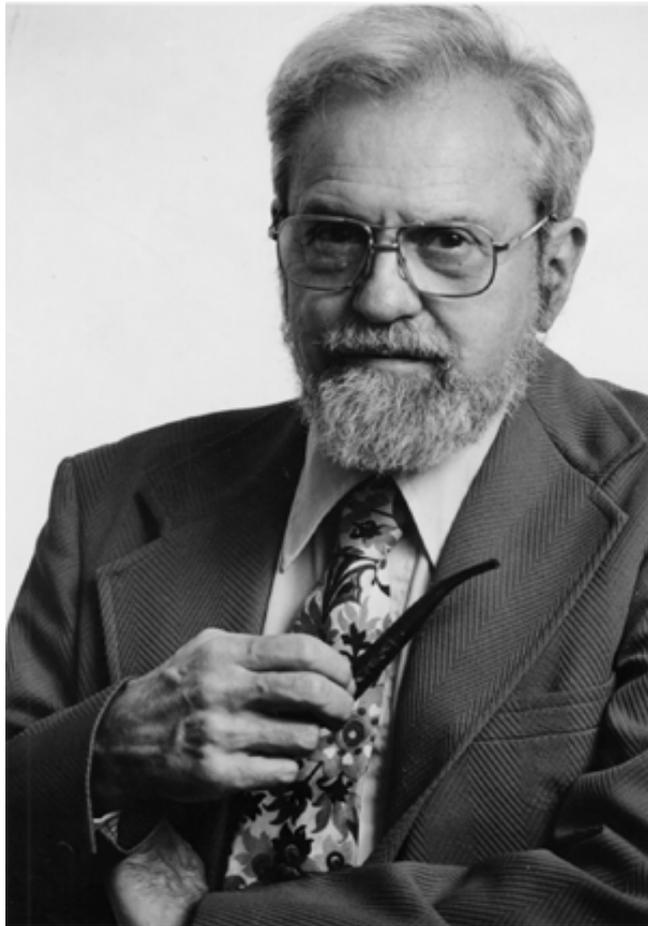

The 85-foot radio telescope here, supported by the National Science Foundation for basic research in radio astronomy, will be topped in size by a 600-foot radio telescope now under construction by the U. S. Navy at Sugar Grove, W. Va., another small town in a valley some miles to the northeast.

The Navy program has not been disclosed in detail.

What are UFOs?

“I make a deliberate point to stay away from espousing any theory,” he said, so he can maintain an objective outlook.

But one hypothesis that could explain the established set of facts would be that there is a “parallel dimension that coexists and interfaces from time to time.”

That fits the data because sightings often occur at one place at one time, but there are not usually sightings of the same object nearby. There is thus little evidence that many UFOs travel.
